

Handwritten text on the left side of the page, including names and addresses, possibly a continuation of the directory or a list of names.

Handwritten text in the middle section, possibly a list of names or addresses, continuing the directory.

Printed text in the middle section, containing names and addresses, likely a continuation of the directory.

Printed text in the right section, containing names and addresses, likely a continuation of the directory.

Printed text in the far right section, containing names and addresses, likely a continuation of the directory.